

PUBLIC LEDGER

MAYSVILLE KENTUCKY

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1897.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1899.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1906.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

THE PERSONAL POINT OF VIEW.

The lunatic is always sure
That he is not insane;
The honest woman, too, believes
That she is far from plain;
The hypocrite supposes he
Is not so bad at heart,
And every dumber fancies that He daily adds to art.

The dotting mother always thinks
She has a model child,
And that her neighbors' girls and boys
Are terrible and wild;
The man who owns a savage dog
Is sure it wouldn't bite;
The village cut-up thinks that all
Of his remarks are bright.

The Deacon when he trades his horse
And gets a better one Discovers nothing sinful in
The thing that he has done;
The girl who flirts and casts the boy
Heart sore, at last, aside,
Supposes she has done a thing
To justify her pride.

The man in stripes, who eagerly
Peers through the grating door,
Thinks he is sadly sinned against
And trusts in men no more;
No hard has ever called the Muse
To help him sweep the strings
Without supposing he was born
To do Homer's things.

Of all the planets that are hung
Above the deeps of space,
This good, green earth that you and I Have for our dwelling place
Would be the richest and the best
And merriest, by far,
If all of its inhabitants
Were what they think they are.

surance.

yesterday she cut two perfect samples of the fruit, weighing 1 3/4 and 1 1/2 ounces.

Forty butchers at the Cincinnati Abattoir

ers and farmers at the Courthouse in this city

Maysville manufacturers and business men demand better Long Distance Telephone Service.
So many complaints have reached the Bell Company that they have sent their Special Agent, Mr. F. L. VanArsdale of Cincinnati, to confer with Maysville citizens with a view of giving our people the best. Mr. VanArsdale is at the New Central.

LARGE CROWDS

Attending the Meetings at the First
M. E. Church, South

A good crowd attended the afternoon service yesterday afternoon at the First M. E. Church, South. The Twenty-third Psalm was the basis for a beautiful talk by the Rev. U. G. Foote.

The Church was well filled at the evening service. The sermon was a strong appeal to men to prepare their hearts for the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Come this afternoon and tonight.

Members of this Church who did not attend yesterday will miss something if they do not attend today.

Members of all Churches and those outside of any Church are cordially invited to come.

Personal

Miss Carrie Zweigart returned Tuesday from Newport.

Mr. James N. Kirk left for Cincinnati this morning.

Mrs. Hattie Mitchell of Mayslick was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Woodward have been in Cincinnati for a few days.

County Attorney Thomas D. Slattery was in Cincinnati yesterday on legal business.

Mrs. Queen Downing and daughter, Mrs. R.
C. Dunroth, of Sardis were in the city yesterday.

Miss Lena Rawlings of Flemingsburg has been the guest of Mrs. E. L. Cahlish for several days.

Mrs. Charles Owens of Wedonia has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. B. Jones, at Wilson, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kackley left yesterday morning for Florida, where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. Mollie Williams returned to her home at Mayslick Tuesday, after a visit to her brothers, Messrs. James and M. J. Archdeacon, and sister, Mrs. Victor Martin of Carlisle.

Dr. H. K. Adamson and Mr. William Willocks are in Lexington today attending a celebration and banquet in honor of the 147th birthday anniversary of Robert Burns.

Miss Nancie Bland, who recently underwent a surgical operation at Lexington, is rapidly recovering her wonted good health, much to the delight of her many friends. She is now at home for the winter with her sister, Mrs. Ollie Bland Stitt, of West Second street.

In THE LEDGER'S enumeration of our old citizens the other day the name of the venerable William Baird was unintentionally omitted. Mr.
Baird is Maysville's oldest native citizen, being born 92 years ago in a house that stood on the site now occupied by the Misses Heiser dwelling adjoining Danlton Bros. livery stable in West Second street.

TWO MAYSVILLE MEN

Magistrate's Court

C. A. Richmond, formerly in the grocery business in this city, but now operating a grocery in West Sixth street, Cincinnati, swore out a warrant for a colored man by the name of William Powell in Justice Mackelfresh's Court in Cincinnati Tuesday for obtaining goods by false pretenses.

The warrant was served by Stode L. Blythe, who is an officer in Squire Mackelfresh's Court, and who also lived in West Second street, this city, for many years.

Powell is in the Hamilton County Jail awaiting final trial, which is set for Saturday, January 27th.

MORE SUITS

Two More Young Men Want Money
Lost in Gambling

As foreshadowed in yesterday's LEDGER, two more suits have been filed in the Mason Circuit Court against Mr. Thomas Ryan. William Victory brings an action for the recovery of $1,500 and Frank Cady one for $300.

THE LEDGER has expressed itself in regard to this matter of gambling, and while it condemns gambling in general, it has no manner of use for a man who sits in a game and agones like a stuck porker when the cards run against him.

Upon investigation it is found that the law includes the players as well as the one who set up the game.

In Kentucky Statutes, Section 963 reads—
"Penalty for Gambling—Any person who shall engage in or play at any game, table, bank, machine or contrivance set up, managed, operated, kept or conducted in violation of Section 1960 of this chapter, shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $100 for each offense."

So it is more clearly defined that the gentlemen who are rushing so madly into Court with their feigned grievances are as much violators of the law as the person who sets up the game.

By the time they settle at the rate of $50 or $100 for each offense they will be something out of pocket themselves as well as their would-be victim.

It is worth while to give this matter a thought,
and make haste a little slowly.

A new pipe organ will shortly be installed in the M. E. Church at Mt. Sterling. One half the cost of the instrument will be a gift from Andrew Carnegie.

BENNETT'S BILLS

What the Ninth's Representative Has Lately Asked For

The following bills were introduced in Congress Tuesday by Representative J. B. Bennett of the Ninth Congressional District.

Appropriating $25,000 to establish a fish culture station in Greenup, Lewis or Carter county.

$50,000 for two ice piers at Ashland.

$100,000 for construction of Lock and Dam
No. 29, on the Ohio river at a point below the mouth of the Big Sandy.

$21,000 for an ice pier at Russell.

Standard Sewing Machines at Gerbrich's.

"ISLE OF SPICE."

While Ethel Tillson sings "Peggy Brady" in the second act of "The Isle of Spice," the "pony ballet" parades the stage in a series of formations that arouse the audience to exill-rating enthusiasm; again in the last act when Charles Fussy sings "The Goo Goo Man," these pretty little girls come out and do a bit of daintiness that fires the audience with more of that enthusiasm, which is always in store if the people on the stage are clever enough to arouse it.
The company is a very large one, carry their own orchestra and will be seen at the Washington Theater, Tuesday, January 30th. Seats on sale Saturday.

WHEN it comes to downright lying, it looks like POULTNEY BIGELOW has the whole field distanced.

THE National Association of Erectors of Structural Steel and Iron Workers, employing 200,000 men, has decided for the "Open Shop."

WHEN POULTNEY BIGELOW was asked to "swear" to the statements he made in his accusations against the Panama Canal Commissioners, he said he was a Quaker and couldn't swear. Evidently he is not a GEORGE WASHINGTON.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has issued orders to the heads of various Departments greatly curtailing the mass of stuff now printed in Public Documents at a useless and wasteful expenditure. Now, if the President will only cut out what he has left, he will save to the Treasury in one year enough money to pay for a nine-foot stage in the Ohio from Pittsburgh to Cairo.

EVERYBODY works Uncle Sam except the Express Companies. In Congress the other day it developed that a Bank in Yonkers, N. Y., had asked for several thousand dollars in silver and made its demand upon the Sub-Treasury in New York City, which was 14 miles from the Yonkers Bank. The shipment was made by an Express Company which sent the silver first from New York to Binghamton, 250 miles. It was transferred to another Express Company, which carried it to Tarrytown, about 250 miles. There it was transferred to still another Company and sent 15 miles to Yonkers.

COUNTRY boys who long for the lights and shadows of a big city may find solace in this pathetic story. It is a mother's recital, following the suicide of her son, CLYDE WILSON, in Cincinnati a few days ago. The WILSONS formerly lived at West Union, O. Viewing the body of her dead son, she said—

"I feel that, in a way, I am responsible for CLYDE'S death. If I had remained in West Union, he would have been satisfied, and all this would not have happened. He was naturally of a sympathetic nature and had not been quite the same boy since the death of his father, ROBERT, about four years ago. After his father's death, he often told me he wanted to go away from West Union to live. ETHEL, my daughter, wanted to come to Cincinnati to study stenography, and I moved here. That was about two years ago. CLYDE secured work at a piano factory, and has recently been employed by a stereotyper in The Commercial Tribune Building. But of late he has been dissatisfied with city life. He complained of the smoke, the soot and the dingy appearance of the streets down town. He said it was not nearly so nice as being in West Union, our old home. He said he wanted to go back there to live. He often returned there on visits to his friends, and when he returned each time he would tell me: 'Mother, just as soon as I get into West Union, I can breathe easier, and I feel so much different. Our old home looks so pretty, and the trees and the grass are so green, and the air is so pure. Can't we go back there to live?' I had about made up my mind to return there, and now this has happened. I waited too long. His pet dog, Flossie, and his cat died since we moved from West Union. He was very much attached to both, and has worried about it. He said they died of broken hearts because he had to go away and leave them, and he cried about it. Poor boy! His love for his old home killed him."

GOOD JUDGMENT.

A farmer went into a hardware store and while purchasing some tools was asked by the proprietor if he did not want to buy a bicycle, says The New York Tribune.

"A bicycle won't eat its head off," says the man, "and you can ride around your farm on it. They're cheap now and I can let you have one for $35."

"I'd rather put the $35 in a cow," replied the farmer.

"Oh, well," said the hardware man sarcastically, "you'd look almighty foolish riding round your farm on a cow, now wouldn't you?"

"No more foolish, perhaps," said the farmer, "than I would milking a bicycle."

The Better Way of Smoking Meat.

Better because the saving in shrinkage of one ham, when done the smoking-house way, will pay for enough of Chenoweth's Liquid MEAT SMOKER to "smoke" a barrel of meat.

Better because it preserves the meat more thoroughly and gives it a better and more uniform flavor.

Better because you need no smokehouse nor fire and there's no danger of meat becoming soft if not rightly cared for and no danger of theft.

Better, very much better, because with Chenoweth's Liquid Meat Smoker you can smoke meat at the rate of a ham every two minutes by simply applying it thoroughly with a clean brush or sponge.

A 50c bottle will cover from 250 to 300 pounds of meat.

We want you to try our Liquid Meat Smoker on part of your meat this winter and see if that smoked our way doesn't prove more satisfactory in every respect than that smoked by the old smokehouse method.

TRYING TO CONSIGN KENTUCKY'S NAME TO INFAMY

Lexington Leader.

An effort is being made by the friends of the late Senator Goebel to consign Kentucky's name to infamy by having the statue of the murdered politician placed in the Hall of Fame as one of Kentucky's exhibits.

The movement started in Frankfort, where his friends are numerous and where, perhaps more than any other place, his infamous political record is best known, and it is stated on good authority that legislators who compose the next General Assembly of Kentucky, and who are to pass on the selection, will be strenuously wrestled with in the hope of consummating this cruel and dastardly purpose.

It is not the desire of The Leader, and certainly not of its choosing, to open the door to the charnel house of memories that cluster about the name and fame of Goebel, nor open the wound that Kentucky's honor has sustained through his miserable political chicanery, by reference again to the darkest page in the state's history, but it could not remain silent on this effort to enshrine a political trickster in the Valhalla of the Commonwealth's immortals and at the same time remain decent.

Of the private life of Goebel we have nothing to say. Of his political career we had intended that the grave should end all comment, preferring to accept in common with humanity the injunction that of the dead nothing but good should be said; but since his friends have seen fit to invite comment by this miserable effort to offer, by political wire-working with the Legislature, the majority of whose members are Democratic and of a similar faith with that of Goebel, a new insult to the people who repudiated him by public vote and who were then robbed of that franchise, we shall not shrink from the unenviable task of criticism.

How far this movement has proceeded and how dangerous it has become are not yet known, but it is known that the followers of the alleged friend of the "Great Common People" are so infatuated with their idol that they will make strenuous efforts to carry out their purpose and with the assistance of a Democratic Legislature will probably succeed. And yet The Leader finds it difficult to believe that a body of representative Kentuckians, chosen by their various communities because of their probity, good sense and good citizenship to represent them in the supreme law making tribunal of the state, can so far forget themselves as to subscribe to this infamy when there were so many distinguished Kentuckians whose names would grace any niche in any temple of fame on earth, and sacrifice public respect by placing in their stead the statue of a man whose last act was to stretch forth his hand, fast stiffening in death, to grasp the scepter of power stolen from another in the most gigantic and barfaced political swindle in modern annals.

It is likely that a statue of Henry Clay will adorn one of the two niches allotted to Kentucky. If it does it will be a fitting and proper recognition of the talents and the worth of perhaps the greatest Kentuckian that ever lived, but if the state is destined to go down in the records as dealing the world to know that sharp practice, political fraud, stolen office and sly-eyed nominations for places of trust, are her estimate of what is required to constitute true greatness; if the future youth of the Commonwealth, who will have access to this exhibition, are to stand in contemplative mood before Kentucky's exhibit and find Clay, the father of the Protective Tariff System, in one niche, and William Goebel, the father of the election law that robbed a Commonwealth of its suffrages, in the other—may God help Kentucky and confound her enemies who are trying to place this stain on her record.

The Courier-Journal yesterday had a likeness of Miss Eugenia S. Mentz, nominated from Glasgow Junction for the Trip-to-Europe. Miss Mentz is well known in this city, where she frequently visited her sister, Mrs. E. H. Binzel.

MAKE IT BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER.

The groom is a hustling young business man, with vim and vigor aplenty, perfectly able to support a wife in good style.

THE LEDGER, together with their many friends, extends hearty congratulations, hoping

The case against M. C. Russell Company of this city, charged with violating the Local Option Law in Fleming county, which was set for trial at Flemingsburg yesterday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Mr. J. P. Wallace returned Tuesday evening from Chicago. While there he rented flat 1,707 Kenmore avenue, Buna Park, North side, whither he will move his interesting family in about two weeks. Mr. Wallace is a good citizen and his departure from his old home, where he was born and raised, will be regretted by a large circle of friends. May good luck and good fortune be with him.

The will of Marshall Field gives $8,000,000 to his only daughter, Mrs. David Beattie of England; $8,000,000 to the Field Columbian Museum; sums of $100,000 or thereabouts to sisters and other relatives, and then leaves the bulk of the fortune in trust for the three children of Marshall Field, Jr. They are Marshall Field, III., aged 12; Henry Field, aged 9, and Gwendolyn Field, aged 4. It has been impossible so far to ascertain the extent of the fortune beyond the fact that it will be between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000. It is said that upon her marriage Mrs. Marshall Field was given $2,000,000 in lieu of her dowry right.

Thermometer registered 76° Sunday.
Rev. Sturgell filled his regular appointment here Sunday.
Tobacco is still moving off to market at from 7 to 7 1/2 cents. Guess the growers are about done stripping in this neighborhood.
Rev. Lew W. Standley closed his meeting here Thursday night and left Friday for Pikeville, where he will conduct another meeting.
The Pastor gave out that protracted meeting would begin at Trinity Church February 3d at 7:30 p. m. and that a young Maysville preacher would assist.
This warm weather has thawed out some large fines and caused some people to lay aside their coats, roll up their sleeves and make somebody believe they have been at work.

The warm rain of Monday made the grass and wheat greener; peach and flower buds are swelling and all shrubbery is budding and leaf-ing out and the consequence is all will get killed.

Public school will close here Thursday, 25th.
While the school is only a primary one and the teacher, Miss George, a young lady and her first school, the pupils made good progress.
There are a few bad scholars to control who need a man teacher to break them in to observe good behavior.

As results of the meeting here, there were several additions to the Church and the membership revived to their Christian duty. A few old backsliders still remain in the background to attend to the stumbling blocks that are always in the Christians' way. There were four taken into the Church Sunday by the sprinkling ceremony. A Sunday-school was re-organized and the Thursday night's prayer-meeting related.

that everything was all right. The janitor can make a note of the fact.

Beware of Quaintments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescrip-

they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, man-

As Tennessee Sees Caleb Powers.

Knoxville Journal and Tribune.

The case of Caleb Powers is expected to be heard in the Supreme Court of the United States this week. It is a question of jurisdiction.
Judge Cochran, a United States District Judge in Kentucky, has held that Mr. Powers may be tried in that Court, under the clause of the National Constitution which guarantees every man charged with a crime a fair and impartial trial.
The persecutors of Powers have appealed from that decision.

It seems to us that the Supreme Court virtually decided the matter in the case of James Howard, in which it refused to go back of the work of the Kentucky State Court in the matter of selecting a Jury. If the Nation has no power to say when a man has been given a fair trial in a State Court, then that part of the Constitution which undertakes to see that every man tried for an alleged crime shall have a fair and impartial trial is not worth the paper upon which it is written. It is a guaranty with no power to enforce it.

Everybody knows that Caleb Powers has not had a fair and impartial trial. He has been tried before partisan and partial Judges, and before juries made up of partisans selected to convict. The evidence that has been heard, upon which an impartial jury could have based a verdict of guilty, has been the evidence of perjurers. Leaving out the testimony of Youtsey, in the Penitentiary for having been a party to the killing of Goebel, and that of one or two others who perjured themselves, there was nothing heard against Powers upon which an impartial jury could have based a verdict of guilt.

It may be that Powers will be left in the hands and a victim of the tender mercies of the Kentucky Courts. These are similar to the tender mercies of a wolf dealing with a lamb.
It may be that he will be executed by direction of the State Courts; if so the Courts and the state that has given them authority will be guilty of what the late Colonel Breckinridge said would be "judicial murder." The Judges who may be responsible for such a murder will not commit suicide as did Judge Lamar of Georgia seventy years ago, because an innocent man had gone to the gallows and suffered death on account of a verdict rendered and a sentence pronounced in his Court.

The Kentucky Judges may not be made of that sort of material; but if they have any conscience at all, all concerned would, in the event of the execution of Powers upon the gallows, carry around with them a hell in their bosoms for the rest of their natural lives.
